

Work independently and sign pledge: _____ Your notes and a dictionary are the only resources allowed on this graded assignment.

Translate into Latin. See vocabulary list on website for help. Review UNUS NAUTA words.

1) For our men themselves there is no other route from this city to that sea. iter, itineris
(n) vir, viri (m) urbs, urbis (f) mare, maris (n)

2) Some are bearing their own weapons, others are bearing the weapons of the gods themselves. arma, armorum (n. pl.) fero, ferre deus, dei (m)

3) Some nymphs are sitting near that spring, others are running with Diana with no concerns through this grove. prope + acc. fons, fontis (m) nemus, nemoris (n) grove nympha, -ae (f)
cura, curae (f) concern

4) Jupiter himself, moved by his own great hatred of mortal men, threw one lightening bolt from one cloud, another from another cloud at that very time with his own hands.
Iuppiter moveo, movere, movi, motus odium, odii (n) mortalis, mortale iacio, iacere, ieci, iactus fulmen, fulminis (n) lightning bolt nubes, nubis (f) tempus, temporis (n) manus, manūs (f)

5) The people have given imperium to two consuls for one year. Which one of these two citizens is better with respect to courage? Each one of them fought bravely against that conquered enemy. populus, populi (m) duo, duae, duo consul, consulis (m) imperium, ii (n) virtus, virtutis (f) civis, civis (m) annus, annī (m) melior = better contra + acc. vinco, vincere, vici, victus hostis, hostis (m)

6) Caesar put that man off to another time. Then Cimber with his own hand seized the toga of Caesar himself from each shoulders with great force.

See Latin to English sentence 8. differo, differre - to put off rapio, rapere, rapui, raptus toga, togae (f) umerus, umeri (m) shoulder vis, vis (f)

7) Caesar, having been slowed by another wound, fell without any hope of salvation.

tardo, tardare, tardavi, tardatus - to slow vulnus, vulneris (n) spes, spei (f) salus, salutis (f) cado, cadere, cecidi - to fall

8) There are two sexy dragons in one part of this sky. The wings of one are huge, the wings of the other are small. Are you able to see the wings of each one of them with your own eyes? I alone am able to see neither of the two with one eye.

formosus, a, um draco, draconis (m) pars, partis (f) caelum, caeli (n) ala, alae (f) wing ingens, ingentis parvus, a, um oculus, oculi (m) video, videre

